Pullman received his degree in English from Oxford University and taught middle school English for many years. The Golden Compass, the first of the His Dark Materials trilogy, won the Carnegie Medal and the Guardian Fiction Prize, and is considered one the of best juvenile fantasy novels of the past 20 years. The Amber Spyglass, the trilogy’s astonishing finale, was the first children’s book in history to win the Whitbread Book of the Year Award. It was also nominated for the Booker Prize. When he is not writing books, Pullman enjoys drawing, woodworking, and playing the piano. He lives with his family in Oxford, England.
