Dorothy Day, co-founder of the Catholic Worker Movement, has left the world with a rich legacy of letters, diaries, and essays that continue to inspire and challenge readers today. "All the Way To Heaven: The Selected Letters Of Dorothy Day" edited by Robert Ellsberg, provides a comprehensive collection of Dorothy Day's correspondence, offering a window into her life, beliefs, and the early days of the Catholic Worker Movement.

The publication of the letters of Dorothy Day is a significant event in the history of Christian spirituality.” —Jim Martin, SJ, author of My Life with the Saints

Dorothy Day's voluminous correspondence to a wide circle of family and friends, co-workers and fellow workers, all those who care about Dorothy Day and the Catholic Worker movement owe a profound debt of gratitude to Robert Ellsberg, the editor of these letters. Healing the Racial Divide: A Catholic Racial Justice Framework.

Dorothy Day was a formidable force in the history of Christian spirituality, and her correspondence offers a unique insight into her personal and professional life. The letters contained in "All the Way To Heaven: The Selected Letters Of Dorothy Day" reflect her commitment to social justice, her faith, and her struggle with the challenges of the early Catholic Worker movement.

The book is a valuable resource for scholars, students, and readers interested in understanding the historical context of the Catholic Worker Movement and its founder, Dorothy Day. It is a testament to her enduring legacy and a reminder of the importance of remaining engaged in the fight for justice and peace.
He has edited Dorothy Day: Selected Writings; The Duty of Delight: The Diaries of Dorothy Day; and All the Way to Heaven: Selected Letters of Dorothy Day. In addition, he has edited anthologies of Thich Nhat Hanh, Gandhi, Flannery O’Connor, Harvey Cox, and Charles de Foucauld. Muslim-Catholic Alliance. This student group will be made up of members of both the Nazareth Catholic and Muslim communities. It will meet a few times this semester for opportunities of joint reflection, prayer and community service. Participants will learn from the story of the peaceful encounter between St. Francis of